

VAIDAVA CERAMICS

VAIDAVA CERAMICS

Vaidava Ceramics is a family owned historic pottery turned designer and producer of tableware that show respect towards its historic production methods and design that challenges ever-changing trends.

For more than 40 years we are creating beautiful and functional tableware for generations to enjoy. Our sustainable production is fully handmade, beginning from the preparation of Latvian red clay to accurate packaging.

We use only glazes that are lead free, which meet and exceed food safety standards.

WE TRULY CARE FOR THE ENVIRONMENT THAT SURROUNDS
US AND WE WISH TO KEEP IT CLEAN
AND UNSPOILED FOR OUR CHILDREN
AND GRANDCHILDREN TO ENJOY.

Collection Earth

Simplicity and great attention to details.
Designed by our team of artisans, to show attention towards material we are working with – Latvian red clay. On the outside it is left unglazed, just levelled and polished to disclose the smoothness of the clay.

All our tableware are glazed and tempered at 1000 C and are heat resistant to be used both in the oven, microwave oven and are dishwasher safe.

PAPILLON, PARIS

«Pour mettre en valeur les couleurs vibrantes de nos produits, quoi de mieux que la collection Earth».

Christophe Saintagne

Chief and owner of Papillon, spent nearly fifteen years alongside Alain Ducasse, rubbed shoulders with the great Jean-François Piège and has been at the helm of two Michelin three-star restaurants, symbolic of the high gastronomy of Paris, the Plaza Athénée then the Meurice.

Collection Earth^{RAW}

Dinnerware that links traditions of Latvian ceramics and Nordic asceticism. Raw outside linked with soft beige mat glazing inside brings cosy feeling in your home. Designed by our team of artisans, to show affection towards material we are working with - Latvian red clay.

The outside is left gently raw, just leveled and slightly glazed. Products are glazed with lead-less glaze and tempered at 1000 C. It is heat resistant to be used in the microwave oven and is dishwasher safe.

LAIMA GRIGONE

Laima Grigone is a ceramic artist from Latvia. Notions of stewardship, sustainability, and social empowerment form the underlying ethos behind Laima's practice and she is a strong advocate for the power of the handmade.

Concerned with 'pleasure in use' and the tactile qualities of ceramics she is looking for timeless beauty to enhance the everyday experience.
